Every effort should be used to supply this great want, for the night hool should be prepared to receive and cutow its many benefits on all who wish o svall themselves of it. This I fear annot be done until the Institute secures its new home. An efficient corps of instructors have been employed during n, to whose zealous and faithful discharge of duties, directed by our energetic and active principal, Mr. C. P. E. the special attention of this Institute to the great work before it—the helping the great work before it—the helping and comforting hand to many a friendless and deserving young man, which cannot reach its full measure of usefulness without an increase of its revenues, so that a larger supply of instruments, apparatus, etc., can be purchased; and what is of much greater importance, the purchase of a suitable home, which, when secured, would supply all of the room secured, would supply all of the room that we require and place the Institute on a firm and fixed basis. I therefore earnestly isk the assistance of every member of this Institute to accomplish this much-desired end. We have had already several inquiries about the next session, and the indications are that we shall have more applicants than we can accommodate. We have occupied during the past year the upper Arlington House. No. 602 east Main street, containing four-teen rooms, at a rental of $800 per annum, but we find it entirely too contracted to properly accommodate our school. Many of the classes, although limited, are too rowded for comfort.

"The library fund is now very nearly exhausted, and it would add very much to the interest of the Institute if that fund could be increased in any way. "In closing, it affords me pleasure to bear testimony to the secretary's earnest-ness and ability in the discharge of the duties of his office."

Everybody was talking politics on the streets of Manchester yesterday, and the political pot began to boil over about dark. The O'Ferrall men were inclined to be hopeful, and many of them were greatly surprised when the meetings in the various wards closed last night about 10 o'clock. The O'Ferrallites were as disappointed as they were surprised when it was announced that Manchester had sent a solid delegation for Colonel A. S. Buford and Swansboro had done likewise. AN INTERESTING PAPER SUB-MITTED BY GOVERNOR JONES.

Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia Will Be Represented in the Pamphlet.

Governor Thomas G. Jones, of Alabama, has sent to Colonel John Bell Bigger the paper which will be published on Alabama in the pamphiet to be distributed at the World's Fair. The paper, which is a very interesting one, contains the following leading facts:

"Alabama invites the immigration of capital, skilled labor and enterprise; in-deed, of all men who will add to the strength and vigor and well being of the commonwealth.

man of the painters had submitted to him that day an additional list of articles needed, and he thought that it would be advisable to revise the whole list, and ask the bidders to submit new bids at a commonwealth. "Alabama is a well-equipped State, and has entered with greatly encouraging results the race for a position of leadership among the commonwealths of the Union. The least flourishing of her institutions are her poor-houses. Not that her several counties have failed to make ample public provisions for this last misfortune of powerty, but neither the vary future meeting.

After some discussion the committee decided, on motion of Mr. Tanner, that the contract for the articles already advertised for be awarded at once to the lowest bidder.

Colonel Cutshaw stated, that according to his compilation of the various prices for paint he could recommend the following bids: E. Gunst & Co., $472.13; R. Wendenburg, $561.99; Binswanger & Co., $605.45. The contract was awarded to Messrs. E. Gunst & Co. fortune of poverty; but meither the very wealthy nor the very poor are numer-

After some additional discussion the committee decided, on motion of Colonel Tanner to testings of "Alabama has an area of 52.250 square miles, more than Pennsylvania or New York, yet she has less than one-third the population of the former and less than one-fourth of the population of the former and less than one-fourth of the population of the latter. The committee decided to secure the opinion of the City Attorney on the question whether Alexander Calder, the tive period, reorganizing the disarrangement of war, and the people adapting ment of war, and the people adapting themrelyes to new conditions. The problem was to live. Yet from the very moment that war's alarms had ceased they began, not only the rebuilding of that which was overturned, but to build new institutions and develop every source of their wealth. By the year 1889 they were fairly entered on that career of progress, whose results astonish themselves and question whether Arabadace Canger, the machinist in the new City Hall, could be allowed pay for the ten days during which he expects to go on his vacation, Mr. Calder receives his pay by the day. This set is complete in thirty volumes—1834-1884. The Messenger is a most famous as well as the longest lived magazine ever published in the South. It was at different times in the Saith. It was at inherent ones under the editorial care of E. A. Poe, Thomas W. White, M. F. Maury, B. B. Minor, John R. Thompson, George W. Bagby, F. H. Alfriend, and others, and numbered among its contributors the most distinguished literary men of that time. It contains a mass of interesting and valuable matter, not to be found elsewhere. Donald G. Mitchell's ("Ik Mar-vel") famous "Reveries of a Batchelor" first appeared in this magazine. Complete sets are scarce and command a high price when found. Twenty years ago a set sold at the late T. H. Wynne's sale for $150. This set is fully worth $200, and in years to come it may bring twice that amount.

The same firm has just completed a set of the Southern historical papers, which are bound in sheep. They have also bound Burke's History of Virginia in the same manner. BASE-BALL

What Causes Them, With a Few Hints for Their Certain Prevention-This is Valuable Information.

Cholera morbus and summer diarrhoes

Cholera morbus and summer diarrhoes occur principally during the summer and autumn. Cholera morbus is caused by improper food and sudden chilling of the body after exposure to great heat. Certain substances will produce it to certain persons, such, for instance, as veal, raw milk taken with fish, or shell fish, and all dishes cooked with milk, such as rice pudding cream puffs, and even ice and all dishes cooked with milk, such as rice pudding, cream puffs, and even ice cream, when kept too long. Unripe and over-ripe fruit, especially if taken with large draughts of ice water, will cause it. Avoid becoming chilled during sleep. In a climate as changeable as ours this is an ever-present danger. Persistent sum-mer distributes. an ever-present danger. Persistent summer diarrhoea is usually caused by malaria, sewer air, or impure water. The knowledge of how to avoid or remedy these dangerous complaints will save much suffering, and avoid many a doctor's bill. Medical science tells us that the use of pure spirits, preferably whisky, in moderation is a sure safeguard against diseases of the kind mentioned. There is but one pure medicinal whisky, and that is Duffy's Pure Malt. If it is taken regularly at his season, it keeps the radiary at his season, it keeps the stomach in healthy condition, purifies the entire system, and gives tone, strength and stimulus. It has been used for years by the American public, and is the most popular remedy of its kind in this land. It is true, there are interested parties who try to sell other so-called whiskies, when they are asked for Duffy's, but such people have an interested motive that is not for your good. Do not be deceived, and insist upon having just what you call for.
